CITIZEN’S INTERIM
Two speakers came forward.
Dr. William Conley, Assistant Superintendent of Student Services of the Arizona Agribusiness and Equine Center Charter High School, provided the following statement regarding the partnership they hold with the Maricopa Community College District, specifically PVC, Red Mountain, and South Mountain Community Colleges:

“In 1997 a partnership was established between South Mountain Community College and the Arizona Agribusiness and Equine Center (AAEC) Charter High School. The partnership was expanded to Paradise Valley and to the Red Mountain campuses in 1999 and 2002. AAEC has a high school facility adjacent to each community college campus so students can move freely during the school day between the two school locations. All the partnerships follow similar operational procedures and processes at each location as stated in a MOU between the two entities.

This partnership allows high school students to enroll in community college courses on the community college campus. The students must carry a full time high school credit load each semester before they can enroll in a college course. The college credits earned count toward the graduation requirements of the high school. AAEC pays for the tuition and fees for the college courses however students are responsible to reimburse the costs should they drop or fail the course. Students are treated as college students and there is no effort to identify them as high school students once they enroll in a given college course. Students adhere to the guidelines in the MCCD common pages. All college courses are approved by the high school principal before students can enroll. There are no day to day costs to the MCCD nor to the individual community college for this partnership.

The AAEC campuses are all evaluated as “Excelling” or “Highly Performing” and have been rated as top 10 Charter High Schools for the past ten years by the Arizona Republic. They have also been singled out as an exceptional Charter High School by the Phoenix Magazine. The AAEC is an open door high school and does not select students based upon high academic skills. AAEC enrolls students with a range of skills, abilities and backgrounds.

The partnership has a very positive effect upon the futures of the students who enroll. The high school encourages students to continue their education and provides the financial support to help students begin their college career. In the past twelve years this partnership has paid a total of $2,758,294 in tuition to MCCD and students have enrolled in 38,241 college credit hours.

AAEC enrollments have produced 2,540 FTSE for the district. This enrollment has generated a FTSE income of approximately $3,850,000 for the district over the past thirteen years. That income had no corresponding cost to the district as the great majority of the high school students are simply mainstreamed into existing college classes. The AAEC students perform very well in the college classes. A thirteen year average college GPA for the high school students is 3.07 and 85% of the students who enroll in a college course successfully complete it. During the past thirteen years 28% of the enrolled high school students have earned their associate degrees by the time they graduate from high school. The typical AAEC student earns 48 college credits by the time they complete their high school curriculum. These high school students excel in their collegiate work; 40% of the high school students enroll in Math 150 (College Algebra) or a high mathematics course and 75% of the students complete English 101 and 102. Many AAEC students at SMCC, PVCC, and Red Mountain have been recognized for their academic performance. AAEC students have served as college class valedictorian, have been selected to attend prestigious internships with NASA, and have participated in a National Science Foundation summer training program. AAEC high school students have made presentations at an international genome conference for the past two years. In thirteen years 20 students have been awarded the prestigious Barrett Honors Scholarship.

The majority of the students graduating from AAEC continue their higher education with, 97% of each graduating class enrolling in a 4 year university or college within a year of high school graduation. Most attend Arizona State University, Northern Arizona University and the University of Arizona. AAEC graduates have also become students at the University of Massachusetts, Brigham Young University, the University of New Mexico, University of Hawaii, and others. AAEC students are currently enrolled in medical schools, law schools, and PhD programs.

The MCCD-AAEC partnership program works! For students the partnership insures they have the opportunity to look beyond a high school degree and affords them the resources needed to begin their post secondary career. Students save meaningful tuition costs by completing two years of college work while still in high school. For AAEC the partnership allows them to greatly expand their curriculum by making use of the courses in the college class schedule. For MCCD the partnership has produced significant enrollment, tuition income, and FTSE revenue at little cost. This is a model program.”

David Perry, Chief of Staff for the Associated Students of Mesa Community College, came forward on behalf of the Student Senate at MCC regarding a resolution Opposing the Smoke Free Initiative being proposed. Mr. Perry explained that students have expressed concern regarding this initiative and urged the Board to this into account.

BOARD MEMBER REPORTS

Governing Board Member Dr. Don Campbell reported that he had attended the graduation ceremonies at South Mountain Community College and was also able to attend convocations hosted by the Native American and African American Constituency Groups. He expressed hope that next year he would be able to attend all the convocations.

Governing Board Member Jerry Walker expressed appreciation to MCC President Dr. Shouan Pan for allowing him to speak at their commencement ceremonies.

Governing Board Chair Randolph Lumm expressed appreciation to GCC President Dr. Velvie Green for allowing him to be a part of their graduation and also to RIO President Dr. Chris Bustamante for inviting him to both of their graduations held at the Orpheum Theater in Phoenix. He reported that he had an excellent meeting with the staff of Human Resources and also General Counsel Lee Combs.

Chancellor’s Report

Chancellor Glasper expressed appreciation to Dr. Conley for his report. The Equine Program is one example of options students have to come on to the Maricopa campuses which enable them to earn credits at the community college level before they transfer to four year universities. The Chancellor also provided a brief report regarding the recent visit of Dr. Jill Biden with the Maricopa Community College District and Arizona State University. He stated that President Obama has requested that there be a community college summit later this year and this visit provided an opportunity for Dr. Biden to speak with students about their experiences at the community colleges prior to transferring to the universities.

Following these two comments, Dr. Glasper reported on the progress being made regarding the 21st Century Maricopa Initiative. Before his report he indicated that Ioanna Morfessis, a member of the Steering Committee, had asked to make remarks. Ms. Morfessis provided the following comments:

“Good evening, Mr. Chairman and Members of the Governing Board of the Maricopa Community Colleges District. My name is Ioanna Morfessis. I am President of IO.INC, a business and economic development consulting practice. Tonight, I am here on behalf of the members of the 21st Century Maricopa Steering Committee to provide an interim update on our work thus far.

Comprising our Steering Committee are:

- Dr. Clara Lovett, President Emerita, Northern Arizona University;

- Mr. Jim Simpson, CPA and Professor of Computer Information Systems and Business at Scottsdale Community College;

- Dr. Ernie Lara, President of Estrella Mountain Community College;
Mr. Spencer Morgan, former president of student government at Mesa Community College; AND Chancellor Glasper, who coordinates and facilitates the Steering Committee meetings.

As you know, the Steering Committee is an independent entity charged with providing oversight and guidance for the implementation of the work of the 21st Century Maricopa Initiative. Since February, we have met three times, most recently on May 12, and monthly meetings are scheduled through December, 2010. In addition to the formal meetings, Chancellor Glasper is very efficient and effective in his communications with us. He keeps us highly informed and engaged with interim updates, reports and requests for feedback and commentary. Each of us on the Steering Committee feels very honored to have this opportunity to serve the Maricopa Community Colleges District and to assist you and the Chancellor in this important work.

First, let me say that the Maricopa Community Colleges District is one of the most important higher educational, economic development and quality of life assets in Arizona. The District enjoys tremendous credibility and regard throughout our nation. With its $1.6 billion dollar budget, 10,000 employees and 260,000 students, the Maricopa Community Colleges have an enormous, positive impact on Arizona’s economy and our state’s ability to be competitive in the national and global economic development arena.

Most importantly, the Maricopa Community Colleges District is one of the most important assets available in Arizona to enable individuals improve the quality of their lives and livelihoods through the education and training they receive from this venerable institution. Not only are we preparing our workforce, but we also are a major driver in the creation of new jobs and business growth.

Dr. Glasper also enjoys an outstanding reputation nationally, statewide and locally, and it is a genuine pleasure and honor to be able to work with someone of his caliber in this most important endeavor.

NOW FOR SOME OF OUR EARLY OBSERVATIONS
We know the purpose of the consultant’s work was to identify ways in which the Maricopa Community Colleges District could improve its efficiency and effectiveness and to identify opportunities for cost savings. Dr. Glasper’s strong leadership is critically important to this process. He is fully engaged in this project and has provided clear directions to staff. It is clear that he enjoys the highest respect of his staff.

Many Maricopa administrators, faculty, and staff are working extremely hard, and taking this work very seriously. Everyone involved – from the Chancellor throughout the work teams, is diligent, professional and committed to excellence. Close to 300 faculty and staff members of the District are actively engaged in work teams that meet regularly to review the many recommendations from the consultants and to plan for implementation of those recommendations. They are working industriously on the 21st Century Maricopa Initiative in addition to performing the many duties and responsibilities of their “regular” jobs.

As we look at all of the many dimensions of this project, we know that several recommendations already have been implemented and others are ready to be implemented within the next few months. More than 43.98% of the planning for implementation is complete.

It is important to note that prior to the consultant’s report, already staff had been planning and working to implement a variety of system improvements. As a result, many “early victories” have been achieved. Examples include electronic payment options for student refunds and financial aid, which will go live in July; more than 15 years of energy conservation measures; mandatory placement; and disaster recovery planning.

Based on what we have experienced and witnessed, we are very favorably impressed with the individuals involved in this process, and their genuine commitment to continuous improvement and the quality of their work. We all are very pleased with the leadership and progress thus far, especially in light of the breadth of the consultant’s recommendations and the complexities of this incredibly sweeping project.

SETTING A CONTEXT FOR CHANGE

We do have some cautionary comments, and appreciate the opportunity to share them with the Governing Board: We all would agree that there is no organization – public or private – in this country or the world that is perfect – ALL organizations need to continuously seek improvements in their operations. The Governing Board is to be commended for initiating this improvement process.
Although the consultants’ work has been completed and implementation is underway, still, we need to be mindful of the following:

The 21st Century Maricopa Initiative needs to be viewed as a strategic change and improvement process, and not simply as a way to quickly save money. Yes, operations can be improved, yes, efficiencies can be achieved and yes, effectiveness can be strengthened.

Still, in our quest to achieve these goals, it is important that we understand the following:

1. It is imperative that the change strategy and individual items be understood and carried out in the context of the Bigger Picture – the overall economic, educational, fiscal and political environment in which higher education takes place.
2. It is equally imperative that we understand the interrelatedness of all of the many components of the Maricopa Community College District:
   a. The District is a highly complex, dynamic and large organization;
   b. Any and all changes will impact other aspects and operations of the Maricopa Community Colleges;
   c. Understanding the interrelatedness of functions will be key to effective and efficient change over time.
3. Therefore, we believe that as this strategic change and improvement initiative moves forward, the Chancellor and his staff must plan for the implementation with the support to invest the time and analysis that is required before instituting any changes for improvement, and we respectfully urge the Governing Board to fully support and embrace this methodical approach;
4. As the initiative moves forward, the Chancellor and staff must:
   - Clearly and directly identify and understand the relationship between and among recommendations;
   - Establish a process for prioritization of strategies to be implemented;
   - Identify the impact on resources, and
   - Institute a comprehensive plan for implementation that aligns with the District’s budget development cycle and its strategic planning process.

SOME POTENTIAL CHALLENGES . . .
One of the greatest challenges that is adversely impacting the implementation process is the lack of data and supporting documentation for many of the consultant’s recommendations.
This lack of data and supporting documentation essentially makes it very difficult to determine why some recommendations were made and how the purported cost savings were calculated. Because of this, it is important to recognize the time needed for the additional staff work that is required to review each recommendation carefully in order to plan for its implementation.

- Maricopa staff are gathering appropriate data and examples from professional organizations and other comparable institutions.
- Hundreds of institutions have gone through a similar review process and their findings may be relevant to Maricopa’s situation and needs, and help the institution objectively measure progress.
- Not all recommendations will result in cost savings; and actually the implementation of some of the recommendations will require additional resources.

CONCLUSION
In conclusion, I would like to leave you with a couple of thoughts:
• Several recommendations have been implemented, making Maricopa more efficient and effective resulting in better processes and outcomes for students.
• As I mentioned previously, Chancellor Glasper and his team must be afforded the support and time required to develop a comprehensive plan for implementation that establishes the relationship between and among recommendations, and clearly identifies the cost savings and any additional resources that will be required for successful implementation.
• The Maricopa Community Colleges District operates with a culture of inclusivity. The change process needs to honor this culture of inclusiveness and collaboration. The benefits of this philosophy are easily witnessed by the devotion, passion and commitment that the Chancellor, his leadership team and staff have to the Community College District and its mission.
• Some cost reductions and savings have resulted from implementing the recommendations and that is good – but the cost reductions may not offset the cost increases that the District is experiencing as a result of higher student enrollment. It is unrealistic to expect that Maricopa’s budget will be reduced after this work is concluded.
• If cost savings do not offset the costs of enrollment increases and if state aid is also cut, it is clear there will be gaps in funding to support the Maricopa Community Colleges District. You will have to decide how to fill the funding gap. Is it tuition?
Is it property taxes? Of course, these types of choices and decisions are the purview and responsibility of the Governing Board.

We know that Arizona’s current fiscal situation and its outlook is not as bright as years past. We know that our elected officials – including you, the members of this Governing Board – will be called upon to make even tougher decisions in the months and years ahead until our state’s economy is in full recovery. We are committed to continuing our work with Chancellor Glasper and his staff to ensure that the critically important institution of Maricopa Community College District continues to fulfill its mission and remains a competitive and formidable force in Arizona’s higher education and economic development future.

Again, thank you for the opportunity to present our interim update to you tonight. We look forward to future opportunities to update you on this important work.”

Note: Board President Randolph Lumm asked if all committees provide a report? He stated that it was the Board’s goal to be a lean, mean, fighting machine and they want to make sure that we are spending money efficiently and wisely. He expressed a desire to have each college show how they can be more efficient and grow enrollment better. He thanked members of the Steering Committee for taking on this burden.

Chancellor Rufus Glasper proceeded to report that planning for implementation of the 21st Century Maricopa recommendations is now 44% complete and is proceeding on an aggressive schedule. The following updates were provided by the respective Vice Chancellors pertaining to strategies they were responsible for:

Chancellor Rufus Glasper reported that planning for implementation of the 21st Century Maricopa recommendations is now 44% complete and is proceeding on an aggressive schedule. The Chancellor introduced various team leaders who reported on strategies to be implemented.

Business Services. Lionel Diaz, Associate Vice Chancellor for Facilities Planning and Development, told the Board that the District has been unable to document consultant estimates that the District could save $1.1 million by cutting energy costs. He said the District already had completed most of the projects recommended by the consultant years ago. Instead, Diaz said, the District will seed Requests for proposals from consultants to determine if there are other types of energy savings that can be achieved, and whether the District would benefit from installing alternative energy facilities. Mr. Walker indicated that he wished to publicly rebuke the District for not researching an H2 Project that he brought to the District about one year ago as there would have been significant savings by this project. To this comment, Mr. Diaz responded that there had been considerable time and effort spent on this proposal by both internal and external engineers who determined that it would not work. He indicated he could have this looked into again.

Student Success. Strategies that have been adopted fall into three areas, said Dr. Maria Harper-Marinick, Vice Chancellor for Academic and Student Services+. In the area of dual enrollment, the District will assign a District office employee to serve as dual enrollment coordinator, and a District-wide dual enrollment course catalog will be created in the fall. The District also will establish a system allowing each high school that participates in dual enrollment arrangements with the District’s colleges to have a single contact person for dual enrollment. In the area of mandatory placement testing, Dr. Harper-Marinick said the District will refine its policy to require mandatory placement after testing for students enrolled in certificate programs. She also said that a number of strategies to improve faculty development will be implemented.

Human Resources. Dr. Phil Randolph, Interim Vice Chancellor of Human Resources the Board the District is adopting a compensation philosophy statement which says that Maricopa will try to remain in the top quartile of salaries. Dr. Glasper said that the District would need to conduct a study of salaries to determine how its salaries stack up against similar positions around the country.

Information Technologies. Steve Creswell, Chief Information Officer, reported that a work team has validated the District’s disaster recovery plan, and work on the backup data center is proceeding. The work team is working on a plan to add a second phase of disaster recovery, which will allow more capabilities to be added to those protected under the system.

Of the 1233 bills that were introduced, they identified and tracked 285 bills that had potential implications for community colleges. Of the 285 bills that they tracked, 71 bills were enacted. Their office is now in the process of finalizing the 2010 Legislative Report that contains summaries of these bills. Our report should be available sometime next week on their website and will have links to the text of the legislation. They are also working with the Legislative Team and the Chancellor’s Office to identify the appropriate divisions responsible for implementation of the recently passed the legislation. The effective date for this year’s legislation is July 28th. They will begin planning for the 2011 session starting next month.

AWARDS AND RECOGNITIONS

Vice Chancellor of Business Services Debra Thompson announced that the Maricopa Community College District had been awarded the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting by the Government Finance Officers Association of the U.S. and Canada. This is the 19th consecutive year that the District has received this award. The Certificate of achievement is the highest form of recognition in the area of governmental accounting and financial reporting, and its attainment represents a significant accomplishment by a governmental entity and its management. In order to attain this Certificate, a governmental entity must publish an easily readable and efficiently organized comprehensive annual financial report. This report must satisfy both generally accepted accounting principles and applicable legal regulations. The district’s CAFR has been judged by an impartial panel to meet the high standards of the program including demonstrating a constructive “spirit of full disclosure” to clearly communicate its financial story and motivate potential users and user groups to read the CAFR. Ms. Thompson expressed appreciation to the Controller’s Office as well as the college business offices for continuing to achieve this goal as it takes teamwork and the contributions of many to attain this certificate year after year.
